This department, every Thursday morning. Contributions from ama teurs, addressed "Amateur Photography," must be in not later that Tuesday. Amateurs are requested early prints from their notable negatives, diving particulars of development, exposure, etc. Their work will be criticised and suggestions made.

The need of a camera club is more apparent and more generally recognized than ever before. With over 200 camerten in Wheeling and the neighboring Ohlo towns, altogether too much enjoyment is missed through not having an organtzation. The need ought to be filled Not much out-of-door work is done by the amateur during the winter months, but that is no reason for deferring organization. On the other hand the experist has more time now to enjoy benefits of club work than he find during the summer months, when he is auxious to take advantage of every propitious day to add some gem to his col-lection of views. Well known gentlemen are preparing to interest themselves in the organization of a club next month, and they will no doubt meet with the hearty co-operation of Wheeling camerisis and those from neighboring towns,

LANTERN SLIDES.

If a camera club is organized, it should become a member of the National lantern slide league. This league is made up of camera clubs from all parts of the country. Each club contributes a series of lantern slides, made up of views taken of lantern slides, made up of views taken in and near the community where the club is located. These collections of slides are sent from place to place during the winter, and exhibited by tile clubs that are members of the league. Naturally much enjoyment and instruction is derived. For instance, Wheeling would receive views from clubs in San Francisco, Denver, New York, Chicago, Beston, etc., and the Wheeling views would go to all the clubs in the league, a regular schedule being observed.

BAD ROADS PHOTOGRAPHS.

Some interest is being taken in this community in the offer of the League of American Wheelmen highway improve American Wheelmen highway improvement bureau, of prizes aggregating $125in value, for the best "bad roads" photographs. Surely West Virginia has more bad roads than several other states combined, and camerists from this state ought to be able to capture some of the prizes. Photographs are to be sent to Otto Dorner, chairman of the L. A. W.'s national committee on highway improvement, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

PHOTOGRAPHIC OPPORTUNITIES.

Amateurs often have opportunities presented to them which they seldom avail themselves of, or, at least, not in a avail themselves of, or, at least, not in a satisfactory way. While at the seashore last summer I photographed everything worth it in sight, and sighed for new fields to conquer. An encampment of the naval reserve opened the way. There were lots of brother amateurs there, and they rushed in on wheels, snapped the button, and ran away again. I don't know what they got. I suppose the usual 60-cents-a-yard-stuff.

I went there in the morning and looked I went there in the morning and looked

I went there in the morning and looked the ground over. In the afternoon I went back with my camera and took five plotures. There are innumerable such opportunities presented to the amateur, if he only keeps his eyes open. Use them with the intention of making plotures, and not a likeness valuable merely because it represents so and so. And further, don't let any one fool you with the "You press the button and we do the rest" yarn. The "rest" part is the hest part of photographic work.—Robert B, Killgore in Mail and Express.

A CHRISTMAS CALENDAR,

Among the many pretty calendars the Among the many pacty amateur photographer may make for Christmas gifts there is one which I have found particularly attractive, says F. L. Coit, in the Mall and Express, Divide the year into quarters, and for cook quarter select a multiple print. For Divide the year into quarters, and for each quarter select a suitable print. For the first quarter, January, February and March, a snow scene is most desirable; for the next, April, May and June, a picturesque spot with dalsies or buttercups in the foreground, is very fitting; for the next, July, August and September, the midsummer number, the amateur will have many from which to choose; and for the last, October, November and December, a bit of country road or stream, "When the woods are bare and birds are flown," makes the set complete. Mount prints on cards that are two or three inches longer on each side. Cut apart the sheets of a small calendar, and in the margins of each each area weekers, accounts approximately approximately and in the margins of each each area. small calendar, and in the margins of smal calendar, and in the margins of each card paste the three separatic months corresponding with the print. Punch holes in the four corners of each card excepting the one representing October, November and December, In which it is only necessary to punch holes in the two upper corners. Run ribbon through the holes and you have a very artistic calendar.

scope of the speculation broadened and assumed a more aggressive and condent tone. The strength of the market developed first in Sugar and spread gradually through the market, separate stocks being advanced sharply one after the other before the whole market took up the movement Missouri Pacific, American Tobacco, Michigan Central, Illinois Central and Cotton Oil preferred were among the earliest affected in the order named. Later the coalers developed strength and it was not until the closing hour that the grangers and the market generally responded in any the closing hour that the grangers and the market generally responded in any marked degree. Some of the stocks which developed most activity and strength yesterday were somewhat neglected to-day, while the rest of the market rose to a proportionate level. The bear element did not yield without, a struggle and was not driven to cover till late in the day, when the scramble of the shorts macrelally alled the rise. There was no news of importance during the day, the bulliah sentiment on the exchange being rather a crystalizing of several days' impressions. The successful conclusion of the Rock Island refunding scheme continued to be much talked of as did the favorable railroad statements for October. The Burlington statement escaped ded to be much talked of as did the favorable railroad statement's for October. The Burlington statement especially was interpreted more favorably than yesterday, the earnings reported being exceeded only by those of September of this year. The small exceeds shown over the earnings of October last year is due to the fact that last year's earnings for that month were exceptionally large. The almost total subsidence of apprehension over the Cuban question also had its effect. There was some awakening of outside interest manifest in through commission houses. This was not on a large scale, however, and the day's rise was for the most part due to the operations of a powerful combined interest. The stock of southern railroads showed a notable tendency to lag. The October statement of the Louisville & Nashville stock of southern railroads showed a notable tendency to lag. The October statement of the Louisville & Nashville probably had its influence on this group showing as it did a heavy decrease in gross earnings combined with an increase in operating expenses which brought the decrease in net earnings up to $127,831. It is significant of the dullness of business which has prevailed in Wall street for some time past that a stock exchange seat which was offered at auction to-day, found no bidders and was bought to for $17,000 for the estate which offered it. It should be stated in this connection that the ownership of a seat does not carry with it membership is

CHICAGO-Wheat was firm to-day, but very dull until about twenty min-ules from the close of the session, the started on a dealing that left the feature finally. Corn, oats and provisions were all dull and price changes at the close were insignificant.

The misunderstanding of an order to buy December wheat came near to demoralizing the market at the opening. A commission firm's order to huy 25,000 bushels December wheat was miscoustrued and the wheat was instead offered for sale, resulting in some other small lots coming on the market and an almost immediate decline to 94c, as against 55% at the close yesterday. The mistake was soon discovered and the buying of not more than 59,000 bushels put the price up again to 94% in quicker time than it took to go down.

May started unchanged at 91%c, but than 50,000 bushels out the price up again to 96%c in quicker time than it took to go down.

May started unchanged at 91%c, but the effect of the disorganization in December caused a temporary depression in May to 90%c. It quickly recovered, however, and in the course of the forenon it reached 91%c. The cold weather continued throughout the winter wheat region and the fields were still uncovered. The St. Louis crop experts evidently thought the trials that the plant was being subjected to were more than it could live through, as several orders came from there to buy July wheat. That future in consequence was relatively stronger than May. Minneapolis and Duluth receipts once more this week showed some falling off, compared with the previous weeks, but were still discouragingly heavy, as against those of a year ago. Those places reported 715 cars, against 762 last week, and 316 the like day of 1896. Chicago received the cars, against only thirty-four last year, but shipments hence were 234,000 bushels.

Atlantic port clearance were squal to 575,000 bushels in wheat and flour. The Atlantic port clearance were equal to 575,000 bushels in wheat and flour. The western primary market receipts were 1,009,000 bushels, compared with only 504,000 bushels last year. Zero weather prevailed in the region around Duluth, so that it was considered very questionable if any further shipments would prevaled in the region around Duluth, so that it was considered very questionable if any further shipments would be made by lake from there this season. This was delivery day, but notwithstanding this fact there was hardly any wheat turned over, and it is the belief that little will be until navigation is closed. Liverpool opened unchanged for all futures, but May, which was %d higher, but closed strong at from %d to id higher, March, the active trading month, being the strongest. Notwithstanding the rather encouraging situation, the trade was so light and the active local traders so reluctant to retire with any unfinished business on their hands that in their efforts to dispose of long wheat they accumulated during the forenoon's rise the market slipped from under them and the price of May went down from 91%c to 90%c about offeren minutes from the close. New York reported only ten loads for export. This lack of export demand started the unloading, which was rendered difficult by the almost utter lack of buyers and prices slipped down very easily. December behaved better after its morning's symmastics and closed at 96%c, an advance of %c.

Corn was firm and was very little affected by either the early strength on closing weakness of wheat. The better closing weakness of wheat. The better feeling was due in a measure to the belief that the liquidation is about over, and spread to-day narrowed some. There were no deliveries on December contracts. Cables-were firm and exports were good, amounting to $81,000 bushels. Receipts were 319 cars. Country offerings were moderate, but the weather is favorable for the unovement. Trade was unimportant. May ranged from 29% to 29% c, closing a shade higher at 29% 629% c, closing a shade higher at 29% 629% c, closing a shade higher at 29% 629% c, which is the contract of the contr

In Australian, the movement was heavy last Friday and Saturday. The purchasers have been principally mills, the wool being bought to go out of the market. Any change in prices which mag have occurred has been of a spasmodic character. There is a widespread feeling that the depleting of the stocks of Australian makes is a widespread feeling that the depleting of the stocks of Australian makes it certain that higher prices for what is left can soon be obtained for the reason the wool of this class is now practically withheld from the market and the grease price has in some instances been advanced two cents over a week ago.
